This women's shell jacket is designed with a focus on functionality and comfort. It is made from Ripstop with mechanical stretch for increased mobility. The jacket is both water and windproof and has taped seams for extra protection. For increased comfort, the jacket has a soft and wind-protecting inner collar. The practical and detachable hood makes the jacket highly useful in many different work situations. The jacket also features a concealed zipper at the front with a narrow placket closure to protect against scratches. The many practical pockets provide secure storage, including a spacious chest pocket and two zippered side pockets, as well as a practical inner pocket with Velcro closure. A D-ring in the right side pocket makes it easy to attach an ID card. To ensure a perfect fit, the jacket has elastic and Velcro adjustment at the sleeve ends, allowing for individual adaptation. R
