These service trousers from ENGEL's ENGEL EXTREME collection have been specially developed to suit female shapes and provide the female tradesperson, as well as female workers in warehouses, logistics or the service sector, with a pair of comfortable work trousers that meet all the demands made in the service industry. In this manner, the service trousers are equipped with numerous functional details, to ensure that you always have the necessary tools to hand. To ensure optimal comfort while wearing, the service trousers are made of a material with super stretch. This means that the material can be stretched horizontally, vertically and diagonally, giving you complete freedom of movement. This is a great advantage in a job where, for example, you are sometimes required to squat or climb a ladder.

- 4-way stretch for freedom of movement
- Cotton on the inside for increased comfort
- Easily absorbs sweat and dries quickly
- Durable and breathable material
- D-ring for ID card
- Ergonomically-shaped knee section provide a better fit
- Reinforcement with extra wear resistance at the bottoms
- Wide hem, so the leg length can be ENGEL EXTENDED by 6 cm
