Functional bib overall in our ENGEL Super Stretch fabric, which is durable and breathable, and made from 56% regenerated polyester. Designed with high comfort and movement in mind. The ergonomically shaped knee section and stretch fabric, together with the high back and rib panels in the sides and adjustable braces, mean that the bib overalls are comfortable to wear, regardless of your work situation. The practical thing about bib overalls is that you don't have to worry about whether you “separate” in the middle when, for example, climbing up and down a ladder or getting in and out of the car multiple times during the course of a day. The bib overalls have buttons at the front for attaching and detaching hanging pockets , which gives the option if you want to have hanging tool pockets. The benefit of this is that you can easily and quickly click the hanging tool pockets on and off as n
